FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

YEAR A | JANUARY 29, 2023

The words of this weekend's readings may strike a familiar note. God's justice is seen through the living testimony of his people. First, the faithful remnant of Israel testified to God's triumph after generations of war, exile, and political turmoil. Then, as the Good News of Jesus revealed God's work among all peoples, the humble sufferings of a few "weak and despised" believers sheds light on the folly of the world's wisdom. The famous words of Jesus in the Beatitudes encapsulate unique dimensions of this testimony with each phrase. Christ's Reign does not only depend on individual behavior to liberate a world captive to sin, but a power that reaches to the heavens, making peace, spreading mercy, and even restoring a right relationship to the land.

I cannot help but imagine what Jesus' words might affect here in our Central Valley. There are certainly the "meek" among us who still wait for their inheritance. One may immediately think of the migrant and farm laborers whose lives are affected by increasingly extreme weather. As I have written before on this page, I see more and more people encamping along the aqueducts and overpasses because housing is so scarce, even in our "affordable" city. But there are other issues of land at stake in our vicinity. Some of you may have heard about a group of local indigenous people who fought for several years to rename their ancestral homeland, which was named with what many Natives consider to be a racial slur. This town, just east of us on state highway 180, is now renamed "Yokuts Valley," and continues to be a topic of debate among residents. Because California Natives are consistently among the most disenfranchised and underrepresented groups in our midst, we may not realize that cases like this provide us with an opportunity to stand in solidarity with those who continue to suffer very real injustice. The work is not over: the Choinumni Yokuts still fight for tribal rights since their historical treaties were broken long ago in the 19th century.

"If we love others, then we love them in their social context..."

Gustavo Gutierrez writes that the suffering of the poor and oppressed has implications on the entire faith of the Church: "If we love others, then we love them in their social context. This requirement makes commitment more demanding but also more authentic [...] as John Paul II has said, solidarity is a proof of the fidelity of the church to its Lord." When we engage in this kind of work, we find a true conversion of heart, we find that our heart has space for the good that it did not previously hold. Speaking with words that should resonate with all of us, Pope Francis preached in a homily (while Archbishop of Buenos Aires) that "Blessed are you who do good and many times are misunderstood and criticized, but do not lower your embrace for hope [...] Jesus calls blessed those who allow their hearts to be opened and enlarged by the things that happen to them."

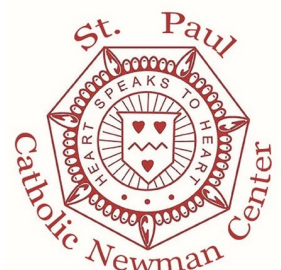

May we all walk in the light of God's saving grace, which invites us to a profound conversion of heart that gives us new eyes to see the Reign of God arising all around us.

From

FR. BYRON MACIAS, CMF

My eye doctor told me I needed new glasses. Without them, I see things blurry. The glasses actually help me see better; they actually help me see!

This weekend Jesus is inviting us to see life through a rather unique pair of glasses: the Beatitudes. This pair of glasses can help us see better, so when we mourn, hunger for righteousness or suffer persecution come, we can see clearly that is not all there is to life.

Only God knows what happens behind closed doors and all the pains and sufferings that we may be going through. Sometimes those things can make our life blurry. Yet, God is always at work sending you pairs of glasses so you can always see light amidst darkness.

The raison d'être of the Beatitudes is God's immortal covenant that God made with you on your Baptism: in the Gospel today we read: "When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him.

He began to teach them" (Matthew 5:1-12). Jesus will always see you with a 20/20 vision and will climb all mountains to find you, and He will give you a pair of glasses (teach you) to help you see and see better!

CATHOLIC CONCERT ON FEBRUARY 11!

I beg you to support our Claretian Youth attending World Youth Day this summer by attending a Catholic Concert featuring Catholic Singer Paul Deiss Smith II.

So far, we have sold six tickets out of 200.

The Concert will take place on Saturday, February 11 at 6:30pm at the Parish Hall. Tickets cost $20 per person. Concessions will be sold. Our Youth will be selling tickets this weekend and next after all Masses.

You can also sponsor a concert ticket for a college student in case you cannot make it on that day.

Learn more about the singer at www.pauldeissmithii.com

JANKA MOVIE

I would like to thank our amazing Women's Guild for bringing Janka to our parish. The movie is certainly a beautiful piece of art that speaks about the worst and best of humanity.

Thank you, Women's Guild, for supporting the youth and the young adults attending World Youth Day. I can't wait for your baked goods day next month!

CLARETIAN RETREAT

Please keep Fr. Paul and I in prayer as we attend our annual retreat with the Claretian Missionaries (my Religious Congregation), January 30 through February 3, 2023 in Sierra Madre, California. Please, pray also for our Claretians as we gather to pray, recharge and re-calibrate our spiritual life so we can serve you better.

FIRST FRIDAY ADORATION

Please sign up at the front desk if you would like to adopt a 30-minute slate anytime between 8:30am to 12:00pm on our next First Friday scheduled for February 3. We welcome two people for each slate. As you sign up, please let us know if you would like to adopt that time slate permanently. Thanks for making room in your life to spend with the Blessed Sacrament; it will never be in vain.

HIKE WITH MARY

Please note that we will postpone our February Hike with Mary, since many of our hikers want to attend IAF's "Recognizing the Stranger" Workshop and Mass with the Bishop on February 3 and 4.

See you on Saturday, March 4!

SAINTLY QUOTE

"We do not go to Holy Communion because we are good; we go to become good." –Saint John Bosco

HAVE A LAUGH

As the storm raged, the captain realized his ship was sinking fast. He called out, "Anyone here know how to pray?"

A pastor stepped forward. "Captain, I know how to pray."

"Good," said the captain, "you pray while the rest of us put on our life jackets – we're one short."

Flu Season

We want to remind everyone to practice healthy habits as we gather for Mass and other events here at the parish.

Bottles of hand sanitizer are placed near the chapel entrance. And masks are available at the front desk. (Please only request what you need for Mass so they are available for others.) We will continue our practice of consuming the Eucharist under the species of the Body only until further notice. We will also remove the baptismal font unless there is a baptism during or immediately following a Mass.

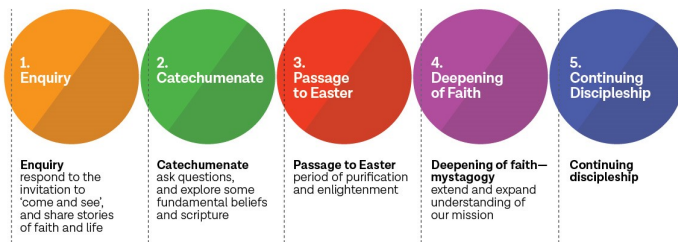

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

RCIA NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

Rite of Christian Initiation (RCIA) has 16 people now in the RCIA process preparing to receive Sacraments. Thanks to the generosity of our parishioners who have volunteered their time to be sponsors for all of them. We are so blessed, that now we have another 10 additional people and more who wish to join next month. Therefore, we are once again looking to our community and praying God will inspire you to become a sponsor.

If you are a practicing Catholic and have received Baptism, Confirmation, and Holy Eucharist. You can be single or married (in the Church) and have three to four hours per week, please contact Charles Arokiasamy at rcia@csufnewman.com or leave your contact information at the front desk. You will be contacted and if you like one of our sponsors can share how meaningful and enjoyable their experience has been.

Lenten Book Study

The Passion and The Cross, by Fr. Ronald Rolheiser, OFM

"For Jesus, the hidden secret that holds the key to everything is the cross: the wisdom of the cross and the brokenness of the one who died on the cross. If we grasp that reality, we will have the key to understanding the rest of life; if we do not grasp that wisdom, the meaning of life will always be somewhat of a riddle to us." Ronald Rolheiser

This study begins on Thursday, February 23 from 12:00 noon to 1:00pm in the Newman Center Cafeteria. Class will be facilitated by John Prandini for six sessions through March 30, 2023. Contact John Prandini at prandinij@csufnewman.com to register by February 20, 2023. Please purchase the book in advance and read The Preface and pages 1-3.
