DID YOU KNOW?

Pope Leo XIV, in his newly-released first encyclical Magnifica Humanitas — described in most media simply as a statement about Artificial Intelligence (AI) — first discusses Catholic Social Teaching at length, calling it “doctrine” and “non-negotiable”.

This June, we will look at Pope Leo’s explanation of this doctrine, which builds on the writings of prior popes, including how the right to private property is not absolute, but subordinate to “restor[ing] to the poor what belongs to them”:

“59. Recognizing that every man and woman possesses an inalienable dignity, together with rights that no human power can betray or nullify, requires us to shape the way we live together, including our economic and political choices, and the makeup of our cities. From this arises the first major principle of Social Doctrine that I wish to highlight: the common good. We can describe it as the social expression of the dignity recognized in every person. When Benedict XVI referred to the non-negotiable values that the Church must always defend, he included among them “the promotion of the common good.” [75] For a Christian, going beyond the narrow confines of one’s own interests and committing oneself, within the limits of one’s ability, to the common good is a non-negotiable value, as is the promotion of life. ...

66. Certainly there is a right to private property, which has its own specific meaning and purpose, yet it is always subordinate to the universal destination of goods. According to John Paul II, this subordination is the golden rule of social conduct and the “first principle of the whole ethical and social order.” [88] In the Church’s tradition, property has been viewed as a means of protecting and managing goods so that they may better serve the common good. Since “the Christian tradition has never recognized the right to private property as absolute or inviolable,” [89] its social function must not be considered a mere theological opinion, but a doctrine of the Church, already present in Sacred Scripture and in the writings of the Church Fathers. For this reason, Pope Francis reminded us that solidarity, when lived out in its fullest sense, also means “to restore to the poor what belongs to them.” —Pope Leo XIV, Magnifica Humanitas, paragraph 59 (emphasis added)

We invite you to read the entire encyclical, with its citations, at: <https://www.vatican.va/content/leo-xiv/en/encyclicals/documents/20260515-magnifica-humanitas.html>

Women's Guild

ST. PAUL CATHOLIC NEWMAN CENTER

NEXT GUILD MEETING: June 11, 2026, 6:00 pm

Over one hundred women were "Sitting at the Table: Listening Together to the Spirit" and we were fed, both physically and spiritually. A million thanks to the Knights of Columbus, Council 9445, who cooked a delectable meal and served it to us, reminding us that Jesus came to serve, not to be served.

At the Synodal Assembly in October 2025, Sister Carla Kovack, OP, was commissioned by Pope Leo to help parishes and groups "to plant dreams, nourish hopes, inspire trust, bind up wounds, weave together relationships, enlighten minds, warm hearts and give strength to our hands" as we become missionary disciples together.

The following represents a small piece of what I took away from the retreat.

If I could capture the Spirit, it would be the sound of this room as each person shares their experience at the table...Topics brought forth included Sisterhood, Being Called, We came, Empathy, Compassion, Gratitude, Presence, Patience, Love, Respect, Communion, Appreciation, Unity, Conviction, Participation, Discernment, Mission. It is time for all of us to enter a season of discernment. We, as women, have been the greatest listeners. The Spirit has now made us the farmers, and it is time to plant those seeds. We must be role models for the next generation. We are in 21st century; there are lots of roles women can fill. We can grow our church better if we utilize the talents God gave each of us. Let us work for the betterment of humanity.

Guild members attending the retreat.

Thank you for knowing that one of the characteristics of listening is to be seen!

Our next meeting will be June 11, at 6:00 pm, a social celebrating a successful year. Location to be determined. Call me if you are interested in joining us, Lucina Myers, President of the Women's Guild, 559/824-9160.

Guild members, always wear your name tag to Mass!

CORPUS CHRISTI

The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, also known as The Feast of Corpus Christi, celebrates Christ's living presence in the Eucharist and invites the Church to adore him. On Sunday, June 7, our parish will hold a Corpus Christi Eucharistic Procession immediately following the 9:30 a.m. Mass. We invite you to join us in this celebration and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

We are looking for a Director of Music and Worship Ministries & Liturgical Coordinator.

The Director of Music and Worship is responsible for the planning, preparation, and execution of musical elements for parish worship. This role collaborates closely with the parish leadership to ensure that music and worship are not treated as standalone functions, but are fully integrated into the vision, preaching themes, liturgical seasons, and broader mission of the university parish.

The Director of Music and Worship is not simply a musician, but a liturgical leader who understands the Mass as prayer, proclamation, and encounter, and who forms others to serve within that vision. This position provides practical programs, resources, and support to all ministries to enrich the lives and well-being of the parishioners and families of St. Paul Catholic Newman Center throughout all phases of life.

To express interest in this position, please send a resume and cover letter to katie.fleener@fresnonewmancenter.org

We are also looking for a part-time Campus Ministry Administrative Assistant.

The Campus Ministry Administrative Assistant is responsible for maintaining on-site student support services, administrative support for the Campus Ministry Director, and coordination of ministry activities in the afternoon, evening and weekends as needed. Occasional driving for errands and to school campuses as needed.

To express interest in this position, please send a resume and cover letter to katie.fleener@fresnonewmancenter.org

To view more information about both jobs, please view the Diocese of Fresno's employment page: <https://dioceseoffresno.org/employment>.
